Weather Key Points

- Rain and mountain snow to much of California through Sunday, with precipitation then becoming confined to southern California for Monday through early Tuesday.
  - Mainly light rainfall amounts are forecast for the lower elevations, with light to moderate snow accumulation in the mountains and foothills.
    - Snow levels will drop as low as 1,500 feet across northern California and down toward 2,500-3,000 feet over the south.
    - Travel impacts over the Sierra on Sunday, and along I-5/Grapevine and other southern passes Sunday night through early Tuesday.
    - A few heavier storms in southern California could result in urban flooding and runoff in small creeks and arroyos, but flash flooding is not expected.
  - Gusty winds are expected across much of the state with this storm both Sunday and Monday, continuing into Tuesday in southern California.
    - Wind gusts of 30-50 mph, with higher gusts in the mountains.
- Colder overnight temperatures Sunday night through at least the middle of the next week, as a cold airmass moves into the state.
  - Overnight temperatures near or below freezing for many areas.
- Light precipitation for the end of the week and into the upcoming weekend.
Latest info: <https://www.wrh.noaa.gov/hazardSummary/?state=ca>
- Winter Storm Warning Sunday afternoon through Tuesday morning for the mountains of San Bernardino, Riverside, and San Diego Counties.
- Winter Weather Watch
  - Sunday morning through Sunday evening for the northern Sierra, including the greater Lake Tahoe area as well as Lassen, eastern Plumas, and eastern Sierra Counties.
  - Sunday afternoon through Monday morning in Tehachapi and Grapevine areas.
  - Sunday afternoon through Monday evening in mountains of Santa Barbara, Ventura, and Los Angeles counties, as well as the Antelope Valley.
- Wind Weather Advisory
  - Sunday afternoon through Monday afternoon in Mendocino, Lake, and Trinity Counties.
  - Sunday afternoon through Monday afternoon in North Bay.
  - Sunday afternoon through Monday afternoon for the Carquinez Strait and Delta, as well as the Sacramento Valley and surrounding foothill.
  - Midday Sunday through Monday morning for the Coachella Valley, San Diego County deserts, San Geronio Pass near Banning, the Apple and Lucerne Valleys, and the western Mojave Desert.
  - Sunday night for the Indian Wells, Antelope, Coachella, Apple, and Lucerne Valleys, the Mojave Desert, and portions of San Diego and Imperial counties.

State Operations Center Situation Report

December 2022 Ferndale Earthquake

Report Date:

1/29/2023

Report Time:

1530

Situation Overview

Significant Aftershocks

- Since the M6.4 earthquake, there have been approximately 224 aftershocks above M2.0, with the largest being a M5.4 that occurred on January 1, 2023, and three (3) within the M4.0 – M4.9 range.
- Aftershocks continue to occur in the area of the M6.4 Earthquake that occurred on December 20, 2022. Since this is a high-seismic area, there are many low magnitude earthquakes occurring in the region that may be normal background seismicity, and not considered aftershocks of the M6.4 Earthquake. According to the California Geological Survey, the M4.3 earthquake that occurred on January 20, 2023, may not be considered an aftershock of the M6.4 due to its location, but rather a "triggered event" within the deeper Gorda Plate.

Largest Aftershocks - Updated January 1, 2023, at 1700 hours:

M5.4 - 15 km, SE of Rio Dell, CA (usgs.gov) (01/01/23)

M4.9 - 7km, WNW of Rio Dell, CA (usgs.gov) (12/20/22)

M4.4 - 6km, WSW of Ferndale, CA (usgs.gov) (12/20/22)

Weather Key Points

- Rain has moved south of Humboldt County; gusty winds will continue.
  - Winds are expected mid-Sunday to Monday, with gusts up to 45 mph.
- Colder temperatures Sunday through the middle of next week, with sub-freezing overnight temperatures in many areas. Coldest overnight temperatures Sunday night through Tuesday night.
- Drier weather mid-Sunday through Wednesday, with a chance of rain showers Thursday, but little to no significant impacts are currently expected.
- Wind Advisory Sunday afternoon through Monday afternoon for portions of interior Humboldt County.
